KENNEDY FORCES FIRE AWAY — Supporters of Senator John Kennedy burst into bedlam when their favorite's name is put into nomination at the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles.

Elated Ohioans Now Plug For Symington for Veep

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elated Ohioans at the Democratic national convention plugged today for a Kennedy-Symington ticket.

Buckeye delegates whooped it up because their 64 votes, that helped nominate Sen. John H. Kennedy for president, turned out to be the largest undivided bloc cast by any state. Four other states had more votes than Ohio but they split them among other aspirants.

The Ohio delegation appeared about as solidly united in favor of a possible nomination of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for vice president.

State Chairman William L. Coleman called a caucus for 3:30 p.m. to poll delegates before nominations are offered for the second spot on the ticket.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who predicted Kennedy's first ballot nomination by acclamation while some were skeptical, asserted that Symington as a running mate would assure a Democratic victory next November.

The governor reported failure in early efforts to induce Symington to drop out of the presidential race and declare for vice president. But he said after Kennedy's nomination that the second spot would go to the Missouri senator if he was acceptable to Kennedy.

On the way here from Columbus, DiSalle predicted Kennedy would win a first ballot nomination by 845 1/2 votes. The count Wednesday night stood at 806 before Missouri switched its 39 votes from Symington to Kennedy to make the total 845 in advance of acclamation.

"We are happy that Ohio was in the forefront of this sweeping victory," DiSalle said after Kennedy's nomination. "We will now begin our efforts to elect Senator Kennedy in November."

Before the voting at the convention, Ted Kennedy, a brother of the senator, told DiSalle the Ohio delegation was the strongest and most loyal in the senator's camp.

DiSalle's announcement for Kennedy early last January has been credited with providing the push that got the senator's campaign into orbit.

But despite speculation that the federal price controller under former President Truman might be offered a Washington job if Kennedy becomes president, DiSalle has said repeatedly he would not be interested. He has more than two years remaining in his four-year term as governor.

Symington, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and an envoy for Adlai E. Stevenson addressed the Ohio caucus shortly before Wednesday's convention session. They asked consideration by Ohioans in event of a second ballot for the presidential nomination.

Afterward, DiSalle reminded delegates of their first ballot pledge to Kennedy although statute does not prevent Ohioans from voting as they please at a national election.

One delegate, in affirming at the caucus that he would vote first for Kennedy, said he wanted to shift if there was a second ballot. He was Paul D. Barthelme of Canton in the 16th District. He did not identify his choice after Kennedy.

Before the convention's nominating session, Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, an 18th District delegate, said he would switch to Johnson on a second vote. Coleman said a handful of Ohioans liked Stevenson but asserted most of the delegation probably would swing to Symington if Kennedy should falter.

Jack's Convention Victory That of Brave Young Man

LOS ANGELES (AP)—State by state, they were swept up by the Kennedy tide. Did they jump in? Were they coaxed? Pushed?

Many leaped to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic nominee for president. He won them over. He was energetic. He gave the appearance of a brave young man, willing to take on all comers in primary elections.

He spoke readily, if not eloquently, on any subject. He had looks, the appeal of a handsome leading man to girls, of an engaging lad to mothers.

He had experience, six years in the House, eight in the Senate. He was a war hero. He wrote books, received a Pulitzer prize. Most of all, he drew votes. He won seven primaries.

Many were cajoled by a skillfully devised and deployed organization. They had to be persuaded. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. He is only 43—too young, some of his detractors said. Among their other blemishes, they said he hadn't entered all the primaries. He shifted position over the years on major issues. He was too rich. He was the son of Joseph P. Kennedy, once called an isolationist and an appeaser.

Some delegates had to be shoved by that same relentless Kennedy organization. The candidate himself could not convince them, not until pressed to stay in line or shown that the Kennedy parade was passing them by.

Jack Kennedy arrived in Los Angeles last Saturday the obvious front-runner. He had campaigned. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had stayed in Washington most of the year, running the Senate. Sen. Stuart Symington had divided his time between seeking votes and voting new laws. Adlai E. Stevenson had waited for others to beat his drums.

With four days to go, Kennedy claimed over 600 of the necessary 761 convention votes. Cold figures, obtained independently, credited him with 546, Johnson with 235. That was on Saturday.

Four Route 22 Easement Suits Filed by State

The State of Ohio yesterday filed four appropriation suits in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court. The state is seeking permanent easements from four property owners to allow improvement of Route 22 east of the city.

Bond totaling $7,315 was posted by the Highway Department. That is the total value of four pieces of property the state is seeking, according to state estimates.

Property owners who have been unable to reach agreement with the state on the value of their properties are Paul B. Brown, Carl Agin, Clyde J. Leist and W. F. Crist.

The state has offered Brown $876 for .86 acres plus damages of $200 for a $1,076 total. Agin was offered $1,416 for 2.21 acres and $109 damages for a $1,516 total. Leist was offered $120 for .06 acres and $150 damages, while Crist was offered $1,953 for .61 acres plus $2,500 damages for a $4,453 total.

THE LAW allows the state to file bond in the amount of the state estimate with the court and then proceed with the construction work.

If the property owner is not agreeable to the state's offer, the matter will go to trial.

A $638,000 project to reconstruct 4.6 miles of Route 22 east of here is under way.

Daley of Chicago unwrapped his package for Kennedy, 59 1/2 of 69 Illinois votes. Gov. Edmund G. Brown of 81-vote California declared for Kennedy. So did Govs. Herschel C. Loveless of Iowa and George Docking of Kansas. At nightfall Kennedy had 620 1/2, Johnson 273.

On Monday, Gov. David L. Lawrence steered 64 — the number would increase—of Pennsylvania's 81 votes to Kennedy. New York, with 114 altogether, started adding to the 91 1/2 it brought to own for Kennedy. Sen. Huber H. Humphrey of Minnesota turned loose his 63 1/2 votes, not to Kennedy but to a stream into which Kennedy dipped his net. At this point, Kennedy had 688 1/2, Johnson 304 1/2.

On Tuesday the pace slowed. Rivals said it had stopped. California delivered only 30 1/2 to Kennedy, 31 1/2 to Stevenson. Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota and New Jersey, among others, didn't come across as expected. Still the total rose: Kennedy 743, Johnson 335.

On Wednesday, in the morning, Kennedy had slipped to 741 1/2 because a few minds changed in Nebraska's delegation. Humphrey declared for Stevenson.

But by the time the convention opened a few hours later, Kennedy was assured the magic 761 votes he needed, and he got them Wednesday night.

Trucker Saves Life Of Woman Driver

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A gravel truck driver saved the life today of a 58-year-old Columbus woman whose automobile had plunged into a suburban lake.

Heroic action of Oakley Jaynes, 41, the truck driver, came when he looked into the mirror of his truck and saw the car driven by Mrs. Gladys Albery plunging toward the water.

The Frank Road Lake where the accident happened is operated by the Scioto Fishing Club. After Jaynes got her out of the water, Mrs. Albery was taken to Mount Carmel Hospital for treatment of a possible fractured shoulder, back injuries and cuts.

Kennedy's Roughshod Ride Leaves Democrats Reeling

3-Generation Kennedy Clan Wins Battle with Cash, Sweat Stamina

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Kennedy clan—three generations of it—went to bat with money, sweat and stamina to get Sen. John F. Kennedy the Democratic presidential nomination.

Their team spirit got its start on the playing fields of Harvard. They found it could score for them in politics too.

Alongside Jack were Kennedys ranging from his multimillionaire father, Joseph P. Kennedy, ex-ambassador to Britain, to the family's 16 grandchildren.

Youthful Kennedy brothers visited coal mines, leaped from ski jumps and worked around the clock in primaries from New Hampshire to West Virginia.

His wife, mother and sisters presided at political teas and receptions, shook thousands of hands.

In-laws pitched in as well. Among these is movie actor Peter Lawford.

The subtle rules of the game left the ranking Kennedy clansman on the sidelines, though.

Joe Kennedy, 71, whose major ambition is to see his son president, kept out of the campaign front line and made no public speeches.

Jack and his aides reportedly thought it best for the controversial old man to stay on the sidelines, though they say he exerted "terrific" influence over Jack.

Joe Kennedy has his own political scars. He served as U.S. ambassador to Britain in the days of Munich and Adolf Hitler.

The elder Kennedy is still tagged with an isolationist label from those early World War II days when he tried to keep America out of the war "unless we are attacked."

Though he later lashed out at Nazi brutality and persecution, Kennedy said in 1938 that dictators and democratic countries, instead of hammering away at each other, should try to establish good relations. "We have to live together in the same world, whether we like it or not," he said.

Kennedy finally resigned as ambassador at the end of 1940.

Eight years ago, when son Jack launched his Senate career, father Joe tried to sever the cords of political inheritance.

Joe Kennedy declared he was "in complete disagreement with his son" on foreign policy. "I couldn't possibly have a worse argument with anyone about foreign policy than I have had with my son," he added.

He didn't make public speeches or campaign for his son. But even then he wore a deep blue tie with the silver inscription "Kennedy for President," a gift from friends.

The driving ambition of presidential candidate Kennedy doubtless comes from his Irish-Catholic father. Brought up in a moderately well-to-do Boston family, Joe Kennedy set out to be a millionaire by the time he was 35—and succeeded far ahead of schedule.

Today, Joe Kennedy's wealth, derived from banking, liquor, the motion picture industry, shipping and Wall Street interests, has been estimated in the tens of millions.

To each of his nine children—seven are still living—he said he gave a trust fund of "at least a million" each.

The Kennedy family, including all those married into it, are a tight-knit group. They are devout Catholics. Cardinals have officiated at their weddings.

When the clan gathers at the family summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., on Cape Cod, athletes and artists, all

Deep South Is Angered By Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts led the cherished Democratic presidential nomination today.

But his roughshod ride over all opposition on the first ballot Wednesday night left some gaping holes in the "strong and united party in all parts of the United States" which he told a cheering convention he would lead into the November election.

In an attempt to placate angry Southerners threatening to walk out on the ticket, there were reports Kennedy might turn to Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri as his running mate.

Symington, who mustered 86 votes to Kennedy's winning 806, is regarded as acceptable to the South.

Informed sources said the new nominee's choice had been narrowed to Symington and Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson of Washington. Jackson was named by brother Robert Kennedy as his own personal favorite.

But there were some among the Kennedy strategists who urged that first refusal of the vice presidential nomination be given to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

With Kennedy's guidance, the convention is expected to name the vice presidential nominee tonight.

In a demonstration of power that surprised even his own leaders, Kennedy swept to a smashing first-ballot victory as the first Roman Catholic to be nominated for the presidency since Al Smith.

He rolled over Johnson, the South's choice, who collected only 409 votes. He left Adlai E. Stevenson, the darling of the sentimental and excited galleries, far behind with 79 1/2 scattered votes.

To win, Kennedy didn't need any of the 43 Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey kept in his corner, nor any of the 41 1/2 that were cast for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The booming tallies of the big states, where the heavy electoral vote will count most in November, put Kennedy across in a convention that had accepted his nomination as an almost foreclosed matter and had little for delegates to shout about.

In the showdown, New York laid 104 1/2 votes on the line for the Massachusetts senator. Pennsylvania chipped in with 68, Ohio 64, Illinois 61 1/2, Michigan 42 1/2, Massachusetts 41, Indiana 34, and California 33 1/2.

Scattered votes—many of them from the West where Johnson believed he was strong—lifted Kennedy to his winning total.

But the South wanted none of the 43-year-old gladiator who had showed his elders among his opponents that by winning all the primaries in which he was entered and in tireless campaigning for more than two years he had forged a crushing machine.

Kennedy didn't get a single convention vote from Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas or Virginia. He harvested only 3 1/2 in Alabama and 6 in North Carolina.

All of this spelled trouble. And it was not long in coming.

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, angered by Johnson's defeat, put out a chilly statement that he would vote for the ticket headed by Kennedy but would not work for it.

Texas' 24 electoral votes—which went to President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956—represent a prize Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be shooting for if he is the Republican nominee.

Comments of other Texans offset somewhat the sting of Daniel's statement. House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who championed Kennedy, said:

Mandatory Driver Tests Being Urged

CLEVELAND (AP) — J. Grant Keys, state highway safety director, says periodic tests for Ohio drivers are a must if traffic safety is to be improved.

Addressing 200 persons at the Cleveland Automobile Club Wednesday, Keys urged legislation to require driver tests at each license renewal.

"Out of 5,000,000 drivers licensed in Ohio, the state knows nothing about the abilities of two and a half million," he said.

Teays Valley Board Requests New $1,760,000 Bond Issue

The Teays Valley Board of Education has moved to place a $1,760,000 bond issue for a new high school building on the November ballot.

The board also has taken action to request approximately $150,000 in Federal Aid. E. R. Gregg, Teays Valley executive head, said this request is based on the influx of pupils into the school district from Lockbourne Air Force Base and North American Aviation.

This will mark the third time the bond issue has been presented to Teays Valley voters for approval or denial. The issue was defeated in the November, 1959 election and again in the May 3 Primary.

The May 3 bond request called for $1,900,000 for the construction and equipping of a new consolidated high school. Board members said the Federal Aid would make up the difference, if approved by the Federal Government.

Gregg said the board already has made application for the Federal Aid. He said the request was approved by the Columbus Division office.

The executive head said the request will be channeled to a higher level for further consideration. Final approval must come from Washington D. C.

Kishi Stabbed By Fanatic At Celebration

TOKYO (AP) — A rightist fanatic stabbed Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi six times in the left thigh with a hunting knife today.

Doctors said Kishi would be out of the hospital in 10 days, and his ruling Liberal-Democratic party went ahead with plans to accept his resignation and elect Trade Minister Hayato Ikeda Prime minister Friday.

Kishi was attacked at the Prime Minister's official residence as he drank banai champagne toasts with party leaders in celebration of Ikeda's election earlier today.

The party election was a preliminary to the government change which Kishi had promised after the controversial U.S.-Japanese security treaty took effect last month.

Bleeding profusely, Kishi was rushed to a nearby hospital. A secretary said he was cracking jokes with visitors within an hour. One of his doctors said neither the artery nor the sciatic nerve had been cut.

Police arrested the assailant, Daisuke Aramaki, 65, a member of a small, unimportant rightist group. He refused to say why he had attacked the Prime Minister or how he had obtained the Liberal-Democratic party badge that he used to enter the official residence.

U.N. To Send Black Troops Into Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council early today approved Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's plan to speed a stopgap U.N. military force drawn mostly from African nations to the new republic of the Congo in an effort to keep it from collapsing into anarchy.

Immediately after the council acted, the secretary general assured that first steps to put the force together would be taken "in a couple of hours." Initial elements of the force were expected to be in the central African country before the end of the week.

Approval of U.N. intervention came at an emergency 6 1/2-hour session of the council that did not adjourn until 3:24 a.m.

Then, by a vote of 8-0 with 3 abstentions, the council approved a resolution calling for withdrawal of the Belgian troops without setting any definite date and authorizing Hammarskjöld to take the necessary steps for dispatch of the U.N. force.

Britain, France and Nationalist China abstained, opposing the direct call for withdrawal of the Belgian troops as an implied censure they said was not warranted.

Voting for the resolution were the United States, Soviet Union, Ceylon, Ecuador, Italy, Poland, and Argentina.

Congolese civilians began burning automobiles of Europeans today as Belgian soldiers tried to enforce an extremely uneasy peace in the capital city of the new Congo Republic.

The automobiles of three Belgians were stopped within an hour in the downtown area and set on fire.

The small force of Belgian soldiers patrolling the sprawling city was helpless to prevent the burnings and a series of assaults and robberies.

At least three members of the native army were killed by Belgians Wednesday night.

One was shot when a band of mutinous Congolese troops tried to ambush a Belgian army column taking 1,000 refugees to the airport.

Two others were killed during the night, and the death brought

At Least 200 Die in Insane Asylum Fire

GUATEMALA (AP) — More than 200 persons were burned to death Wednesday night in a fire in a Guatemala City insane asylum.

Authorities said the number of dead might rise to 300. The fire broke out shortly after midnight and quickly swept through the old building, which housed 1,400 inmates.

About 600 persons were trapped in the inner part of the building and firemen, police and volunteers were unable to get all of the inmates out.

The fire threatened the adjacent General Hospital, part of which was evacuated before the asylum fire was brought under control after seven hours.

Charred remains of the victims were placed in an impromptu morgue this morning. Most of the bodies could not be identified.

Jack Tells Krush: 'No Appeasement'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today "the next president must make it clear to Khrushchev that there will be no appeasement."

In dealing with Khrushchev there is no Democratic, no Republican way," said Kennedy.

"An election year may tempt Khrushchev to try to fish in our troubled waters, but he would be well-advised to keep out of American politics—for any interference on his part would boomerang on him. He should not mistake our election debates for national disunity on the fundamentals of our policy of resistance to communism."

Dem 'Payola' Next

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican national chairman said today he isn't surprised at the Democratic nomination of Sen. John F. Kennedy—that it was done by deals, and the payola comes next.

87 of 88 on 2 Airliners Survive Ditchings in Ocean

MANILA (AP) — Two airliners crashed off the Philippines at opposite ends of the island chain before dawn today, only eight minutes apart. All but one of the 88 persons aboard survived in the inky waters.

One wing was on fire when a Northwest Orient Airlines plane carrying 58 persons ditched off the Polillo Islands about 85 miles amphibious planes picked up 57 northeast of Manila. U.S. military survivors and the body of one woman passenger and brought them to Manila. One survivor was reported seriously injured.

Eight minutes before, a Philippine Airlines DC3 had ditched in shallow water near Dumaguete, off Negros Island in the southern Philippines. The plane was bound from Manila for Zamboanga City, but bad weather prevented a landing. The pilot ran out of gas. The 27 passengers and 3 crewmen all reached shore safely.

The American airliner was approaching Manila on a flight from New York to Hong Kong after stops in Seattle, Anchorage, Tokyo and Okinawa.

About an hour before the Northwest airliner crash, the pilot reported his No. 2 propeller had "run away" and he was unable to feather it. Then the engine caught fire, the flames spread to the wing, and the four-engine DC3 hit the water.

Rescue planes sighted signal flares on the water near the crash scene, put down, and taxied up to the survivors huddled on four rafts.

A rescue pilot said the water was so rough that the rafts had to be towed to a cove so the survivors could be loaded on the five planes.

The Northwest survivors were flown to Manila's International Airport and the U.S. Naval Base at Sangley Point, on Manila Bay. They arrived eight hours after the crash. Most were able to walk to ambulances. They were driven to hospitals.

oned Johnson's cause, was unhappy about the result. But he said he is a good Democrat and will abide by the result.

Johnson himself sent Kennedy a wire offering "warm congratulations" and promising help "in every way to carry the whole Democratic ticket to victory from the courthouse to the White House."

But other Southerners let their feelings show.

Gov. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina made an official demand that his state not be recorded as joining the acclamation for Kennedy's nomination.

South Carolina Democrats will reconvene their state convention in mid-August. Sources close to the governor said they expect the state's electors to be instructed to vote for some other person than Kennedy in the Electoral College.

Six Southern states have made arrangements under which they could free their electors if they chose.

More trouble could be expected from Mississippi, which wouldn't even give its support to Johnson but cast its 23 convention votes for Gov. Ross R. Barnett.

Stock Mart Prices Show Quiet Rebound

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market early this afternoon rebounded quietly from three sessions of sharp decline.

Key issues throughout the list picked up fractions, a few gaining a point or more.

A number of the more volatile or higher-prices issues recovered lost ground, gains going from 1 to 4 points or so.

Trading was extremely slow and there was nothing much in the news to spur prices in any direction.

A slightly higher tone prevailed among motors, rails, steels, oils, chemicals and nonferrous metals. The aircraft-missiles edged off from recent gains.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.19 to 634.30. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .60 to 220.00 with the industrials up 1.50, the rails up .20 and the utilities off .10.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds rose slightly.

15 Areas Seek Cut of Cincy Tax

CINCINNATI (AP) — Representatives of 15 communities in Hamilton, Clermont and Warren counties have agreed on a three-point campaign in their efforts to get a share of Cincinnati's one per cent payroll tax.

The communities believe they should get a part of the tax money Cincinnati collects from persons who work in Cincinnati but live in outlying towns.

The representatives of the towns agreed at a meeting in Milford Wednesday night to form a permanent organization to be known as the "Share the Tax Committee."

Efforts to get a part of the income tax have been made for several years by Robert E. Hyde, mayor of Owensville.

The program adopted Wednesday night calls for: Discussion with Cincinnati officials to arrive at an agreement to split the taxes involved.

Efforts to bring about legislation by the state of Ohio prescribing such a split.

These failing, court action to test the constitutionality of the Cincinnati payroll tax ordinance.

The committee will meet again Aug. 17 in Mariemont.

At the meeting were officials from Woodlawn, Montgomery, Lincoln Heights, Madeira, Newtown, Mariemont, Arlington Heights, Evendale, Greenhills, Amelia, Owensville, Mason, Pleasant Plain, Loveland and Milford.

Joe Kennedy's four sons followed in his footsteps and were graduated from Harvard, where they starred at baseball, football or swimming.

His five daughters were educated in Catholic schools, convents and colleges.

All but the eldest daughter, Rosemary, who teaches in a convent school, are married and have children.

The Kennedy clan has politics in its blood. Jack's grandfather, Patrick J. Kennedy, started out running a saloon and became an East Boston political boss. His mother, Rose, was the daughter of famed Boston Mayor John F. (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald.

Perhaps as imbued with politics as Jack are his two brothers, Edward and Robert, both lawyers and stalwart campaigners.

The youngest, Edward, 28, nicknamed Teddy, took over in 1958 as Jack's campaign manager and has been in the thick of things since.

When Jack ran for the Senate in 1952, brother Robert F. had the campaign job. Since then, Bobby, 33, rose to a prominent role as chief counsel of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Last September, Bobby quit his Senate investigating job to write a book about labor rackets, entitled "The Enemy Within." It was published in the midst of the 1960 primaries, adding to the Kennedy publicity.

Jack is the author of "Why England Slept," and the Pulitzer Prize winning "Profiles in Courage."

3 Men Held In Connection With Burglary

Three Pennsylvania men, apprehended Saturday by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, are being held here in connection with a burglary in their home state.

They are identified as Fred E. Barron, 20, Route 3, Somerset, Pa., Richard P. Ramp, 20, Friedens, Pa., and Michael J. McKay, 21, Hooversville, Pa. Deputy Dwight Radcliff said they admitted burglarizing a summer cottage near Bedford, Pa., July 7 or 8.

They were apprehended here after paying for gasoline with a roll of nickles at the Bonded Service Station on Lancaster Pike. Service station employees notified deputies who picked up the men for investigation.

The men said they obtained the nickles by selling a motor at a junk yard in Zanesville.

DEPUTY Radcliff said three bottles of intoxicants, a set of binoculars and fishing poles were found in the men's auto. He said they admitted taking the articles from the cottage in Pennsylvania.

Radcliff said all three admitted serving time in correctional institutes. They said they were involved in no crimes in Ohio.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said Pennsylvania authorities were notified of the apprehension.

More Numbers for Phones

Once upon a time, telephone users simply picked up the receiver, cranked a lever on the side of the box and waited for the operator to answer. If she did, they gave her a simple number like 319R2 (meaning it was a party line and they wanted the party with two rings) or the name if they couldn't remember the number.

There were a few drawbacks to this elementary system, of course. Sometimes the switchboard was closed while the operator went to lunch. And there was the annoyance of bells ringing all the time when the call was for another house, not to mention of course the occasional party-liner who kept informed via the telephone.

In time the marvels of science brought forth the ultimate in telephone calling—the dial system. And service cross-country improved to the point where it was only a matter of minutes until New Jersey could alert Uncle Jake in California.

But just as surely as rural communities were devoured by the cities, which in turn began battling each other for space, instruments of personal communication became more complex. More telephones were in use than there were combinations of five digit numbers, so exchanges were named. This meant a person had to dial the first two letters of a word like xylophone before he could dial the five numbers of his next door neighbor.

After evolving Bell's uncomplicated progeny to this point of technical perfection,

U-2 Flights Should Start

Majority thinking among American strategists is reported to be that reconnaissance flights of the U2 planes must be resumed. They were supplying the picture of interior Russian preparations. Now the nation faces a future of little information in perilous times.

If foreign bases are unavailable as U2 launching sites under threat of Russian rockets, the U. S. has plenty of naval car-

Hic Heard Round the World

NEW YORK (AP)—A thirsty world receives with a mixture of trepidation and delight the news that a British brewery has come up with a formula for instant beer.

Leave it to perfidious Albion to put a head on the 20th century's scientific development. While scientists most everywhere else in the world were mucking about with rockets and missiles, her majesty's laboratory legions, in true Alec Guinness fashion, were busy trying to extract a presto pint from their test tubes.

After many a long night and many a longer morning after, the breakthrough finally came at Burton-on-Trent, one of England's oldest foam factories.

It is still too early to tell whether the brewmaster will be knighted for his efforts and thereby become history's first bona fide beer baron.

Conventions Outmoded

There can be no question but that the convention is an outmoded device for selecting a candidate for President. It was outmoded in 1912 when Theodore Roosevelt battled for the direct primaries. It, today, represents neither a party's choice nor the people's choice. It is a grand fiesta to excite over what has already been arranged.

Here is an enormous gathering of men and women, most of whom have no say in the proceedings and do not even vote as they choose. The galleries are filled with onlookers, visitors, the curious, the gullible. They come to watch the donkeys or the elephants. Most of them have no idea as to what is going on. The heavy contributors and the currently and formerly distinguished sit in special reservations, usually box seats. Everybody has to have a ticket or a badge.

The noise is unbelievable and constant. The lights glare. There is an orchestra which blares and an organ which does not play a Gregorian chant. Those who march in honor of a candidate, not only include the delegates who favor him but also hired marchers who swell his ranks, prolong the pandemonium and excitement, and continue the impression of unrestrained enthusiasm.

Speakers rise to speak. Sometimes they are heard in the convention hall. They are better heard on radio and television. The speeches are never extemporaneous because no politician can risk a slip of the tongue. Besides, he wants his speed printed in the newspapers and commented upon. So he sends it out in advance.

phone companies have run out of names. Some 540 words now preface telephone listings throughout the nation and there just aren't any more which are easy to understand, don't insult the users or are otherwise suitable.

So back to numbers. Wichita Falls, Texas, has the distinction of being the first to rely upon all-number numbers for telephones. Seven numbers are now in use there and the change will be sweeping other locales in years to come. Probably by the time this innovation is complete, the system will have progressed to eight, 10 or 12 digits.

The Soviets are in dead earnest about world conquest and will apply the black-mail heat whenever they feel able. However, now that the staff has sobered up from the hic heard round the world, it is time to consider what this singular achievement means in terms of our civilization and our way of life as we know it, or used to know it.

What, for instance, is to become of the venerable custom of going on the water wagon? Armed with a pail of sudden suds, the reform-minded souse certainly would fall off before he ever really got on, thereby dooming a perfectly usable expression to early obsolescence.

And think what will happen to the office lush. He won't even have to wait for the lunch whistle to wet his whistle. Right under the boss's nose and on company time, he can get a beautiful bun on simply by making periodic trips to the water cooler. If that arouses

By George Sokolsky

Quietly, without excitement, wise great men sit in hotel suites. They come to the convention hall only when it is absolutely necessary. They hold conferences. They meet in committees. They make deals. Whenever a candidate says that he has made no deals, he is literally not telling the truth. The deals are made and they are lived up to. Sometimes a candidate has to avoid the direct conversation; but an intermediary can always be found.

The candidate promotes himself. He is drafted by nobody. He raises his own money. A rich candidate or one that has rich friends or has access to labor union money has an easier time than one who has to watch his nickles and dimes.

As a businesslike institution, the convention is nothing at all. It ought to be abolished. However, no substitute for the convention has been devised because neither of principal political parties is a membership organization. They are mechanisms for gathering votes for chosen candidates. The Boss system continues in various forms.

A politician is more concerned about the opinion of Lawrence of Pennsylvania or DeSapio of New York or Pat Brown of California than he is about hundreds of delegates. In the Democratic Convention, David Dubinsky and Alex Rose matter; Walter Reuther matters. These are the politicians of labor. They have access to enormous labor treasuries and can make promises of support to candidates. Nothing would please them better than to have John Kennedy as the Democratic candidate and Nelson Rockefeller as the Republican candidate. Then they would win no matter who lost.

Other groups are at work at conventions, offering huge blocks of votes. Most of them cannot deliver on the barrel-head but a nervous candidate does not want to risk losing any group that can be satisfied with a bone or a scrap.

Meanwhile there is no deliberation. What is called a Platform is intended to be a statement of principles. A large committee meets to draw up this document. It holds hearings over a prolonged period before the convention and listens to all sorts of ideas, proposals, con-

New Ohio Idle Pay Claims on Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The climb in the number of new claimants for unemployment compensation continued in the week ended July 9, along with an increase in the number of continuing claims.

Cleveland Convicted As Liquor Store Yegg
WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A Trumbull County Common Pleas Court jury has convicted James Zimmerman of Cleveland of burglary and larceny in a $20,000 burglary and safe-cracking at a state liquor store here in June 1958. Judge G. H. Birrell sentenced him Wednesday to 1 to 15 years in the Ohio Penitentiary, but stayed the sentence pending filing of an appeal.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SINCE WORLD WAR I, points out Arthur Salenme, many cities in Eastern Europe have, through capture or legislation, been shifted across international borders. Such a city, for example, was the German city of Lem-burg, renamed Lwow when it was ceded to Poland in 1919, and renamed again as Lvov when it was incorporated into the Soviet Union.

A schoolboy in 1958 made the mistake of mentioning in class that the real name of the city was Lemburg. The shocked teacher barked, "Pupil Ivanov will march to the front of the class and recite ten times: Pupil will say we're in Lvov!"

"Mother," wailed the daughter of a confirmed beatnik. "I'm getting mighty tired of running around in circle." "Shut up," rasped the dear, Victorian mother, "or I'll nail your other foot to the floor." (Sick, sick, sick.)

Contact Lenses Need Time

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

After writing a column about contact lenses some time ago, I received several inquiries about how easy or difficult it is to adjust to these tiny glasses.

I can't give a hard-and-fast answer to this question. For some persons, adaption is fairly easy. Others can never wear contacts comfortably.

You must remember that a contact lens, no matter how carefully and correctly it is fitted, is a foreign body in the eye. You must learn to tolerate it just as many persons must learn to use false teeth. And you know how some persons are carefully fitted with a complete set of dentures, then decide they are too uncomfortable and solve the problem by leaving them at home.

For almost anyone, the use of contact lenses will be somewhat uncomfortable for a while. One person may experience some trouble for a week or two. Another may have some discomfort for possibly a month or even longer.

And, as I said before, some persons find that they can never be at ease with them.

Hypnotism, I understand, is being employed on some patients with some success.

Sometimes complete changes in the lenses may be necessary before a person finds them completely comfortable. Let me explain that eye specialists consider comfort "a varying degree of unconsciousness of the presence of these small plastic disks on the eyes."

The fitting of contact lenses is generally a bit more difficult than the fitting of ordinary spectacles. It depends, of course, upon the condition of the patient's eyes, the type of lenses used and, naturally, upon who is doing the fitting.

In most cases, you can expect to visit the practitioner at least five or six times for fittings. There have been extreme cases in which 20 visits were needed.

Most persons, however, don't have such difficulty adjusting to this type of visual aid. Most are completely satisfied with contact lenses.

Some find them so unusually comfortable that they say they can sleep with their contact lenses in place. Generally, though, this is inadvisable. The eye can maintain a healthy state more easily if it is left uncovered for at least a portion of the day.

Football Museum Group Gets Charter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A non-profit corporation charter has been issued by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to the National Football Museum, Inc., of Canton.

Purpose of the corporation is to establish, equip, maintain and operate "a depository to collect, classify, preserve and protect records, relics, articles and other things of historic interest connected with or pertaining to the origin, development and growth of football, and to stimulate an interest in football as a national pastime, particularly in institutions of learning . . ."

The World Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1960 political conventions are not only old-fashioned. They're contradictions.

Here in the sixth decade of the 20th Century they retain all the corny, long-winded, disorderly clatter of the 19th Century.

But they are nominating presidential candidates who are thoroughly modern.

Neither Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who got the Democratic nomination Wednesday night, nor Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who seems assured of the Republican nod, exudes much personal warmth. Neither is a moving speaker.

And just because both lack the power to excite they may put on a dull campaign.

Neither has the personal charm of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the fire of Harry S. Truman, or the easy geniality of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

But both are superb technicians in politics.

Getting the nomination is for them no accident. They have worked for it for years, not only in person but by surrounding themselves with excellent young staffs, taking care of minute details, and planning ahead.

They are so expert in modern political techniques—from how to handle themselves on TV to lining up support far ahead of time—they have to be careful not to look too slick.

The one thing Kennedy and Nixon have in common is a thorough knowledge of national issues and the problems facing the country, although their stand on issues and solutions for the problems are not the same.

Either man as president would do far more homework, firsthand, than Eisenhower ever did. They've been doing it for years.

Eisenhower depended so much on staff work—on his advisers for information about issues and events—that he cheerfully admitted he does most of his newspaper reading on Sunday.

Nothing illustrates better the old-fashioned flavor of the 1960 conventions than the fact it took the Democrats almost eight hours of nominating speeches and banner-waving Wednesday before voting on a candidate.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Kennedy's closest rival for the Democratic nomination, disclosed at this week's convention he belongs to the old school of politicians.

One example was the arm-waving, stem-winding speeches, the clichés and literary flag waving in his TV appearance with Kennedy, who finished in a few minutes without flourishes.

To this writer, who has seen every political convention since 1944, Wednesday night's nomination of Kennedy seemed the least enthusiastic of the past 16 years.

The answer may be that it is difficult to get emotional about a technician. Why then was Kennedy chosen, aside from the fact that he and his supporters had worked for months lining up delegates?

Perhaps because the convention felt, consciously or not, that the accumulating problems of today call not only for a hard-working, well-informed candidate but one who acts and thinks in modern terms.

'Stratovision' Given Go-Ahead

Airborne TV System To Become Reality

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Westinghouse Corp. has been awarded a $2,200,000 contract to equip and man two aircraft which will launch the world's first airborne educational TV system.

The "Stratovision" technique developed by Westinghouse enables television signals to be transmitted from high-flying airplanes. It will be used to make educational programs available to millions of students in a six-state midwest area.

Westinghouse's air arm division here will assume technical responsibility for the system under the two-year contract announced today. It will supply the necessary equipment, install it in two DC-6 planes and furnish skilled personnel to operate it.

The educational television program was announced last October by the Midwest Council on Airborne Television Instruction. The council is being assisted by the Purdue Research Foundation and Purdue University, where the instructional courses will be prepared.

The system, scheduled to get under way on a trial basis next January, will beam programs to all or parts of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin.

A plane will circle at about 23,000 feet above Montpelier, Ind. and broadcast signals to schools within a radius of 150-200 miles. Initial programs will be transmitted from tapes, but future modifications are expected to permit the relay of live programs received from the ground.

Bulk Milk Cooler Sales Tax Upheld

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today upheld Board of Tax Appeals rulings which held bulk milk coolers and water heaters used in connection with dairying are subject to the sales tax.

The court held the board's opinion was neither unreasonable nor unlawful. The court conceded that a "close question" was involved, but it said it would not substitute its judgment for that of the board.

The cases, which may have a far-reaching effect on sales - tax exemptions for other farm equipment, involved Raymond L. Foush of Lowell (Washington County) and Denver Holter of Mine-ville (Meigs County).

The board originally held that, since bulk milk coolers make no physical or chemical change in the milk being cooled they are not "used directly" in processing of milk.

Ohio Oil in 1959 Worth $17 Million

Ralph Bernhagen, chief of the Ohio Division of Geological Survey, says Ohio produced almost six million barrels of oil in 1959, worth more than 17 million dollars.

A report on the state's oil and gas developments also showed an increase of 2 1/2 billion cubic feet over the previous year in Ohio's gas production.

Total gas produced was more than 36 billion cubic feet, with a value of more than eight million dollars.

Summer Watermelon Pickles Makes Spicy Winter Delight

WATERMELON PICKLES made in summer will add spicy delight to winter meals. Use small heart, crescent and round-shaped cutters for attractive shapes.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A Victorian lady, after giving her recipe for preserved watermelon rind, added:

"A very handsome sweetmeat, although rather in ipid in flavor. The reader can judge whether, as the charity boy said of the alphabet, it is worthwhile to go through so much and get so little."

When it came to pickled watermelon rind, our lady avowed hers "very handsome and delicious." We note that her rule calls for plenty of spice — ginger, mace, cloves, cinnamon and turmeric.

"Cut the rind into fanciful shapes," directs our outspoken Victorian. That's just what we suggest you do, using small cutters.

Our recipe calls for powdered alum; you can get this at a drug store, but make sure it is labeled potassium alum. This variety of alum is the one most commonly used in food — notably in baking powder. It is a hardening acid suitable for preserving and is undoubtedly the alum called for in old-time recipes for pickling and that used to be known by druggists of yesteryear as "picklin alum" or "food alum."

We make a point of this because last summer when we were trying watermelon pickle recipes in anticipation of this year's column, a young druggist sold us powdered ammonium alum when we asked for "pickling alum." On checking up we found that ammonium alum is used for medicinal purposes; while it is safe to use in foods a chemist whom we consulted guessed that it would not produce so fine a pickle as potassium alum. SPICY WATERMELON PICKLE Ingredients: 2½ pounds pared firm watermelon rind (cut into 1-inch shapes), 4 teaspoons powdered potassium alum, 2 pounds (4½ cups) sugar, 2 cups cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, ½ teaspoon whole all-spice, 2 cinnamon sticks, green food coloring.

Method: Make sure green outer covering and all pink is removed from rind before cutting into shapes; there should be 2 quarts. Cover rind shapes with cold water in a large kettle (porcelainized iron or enamelware); bring water to a boil and cook 10 to 20 minutes or until tender crisp and rind can be pierced with a fork. Stir in alum; remove from heat. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Next morning drain; add sugar and vinegar. Tie spices in cheesecloth and add. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat; cool; cover and refrigerate again overnight.

Next morning bring to a boil; remove spice bag; stir in food coloring to make syrup desired green shade. With slotted spoon pack rind tightly into 6 hot sterilized half-pint jars; fill jars with boiling syrup, making sure rind is covered. Seal jars. Store several weeks before using.

Note: This pickle keeps its firm transparent texture but it is not hard-crisp.

Go Interrupter One Better

DEAR ABBY: There is one person in our office who gets on our nerves. He is a "sentence finisher". No matter what anyone says, he is right there to finish the sentence.

For instance, if I say, "Walking out of an air-conditioned bar and into the street is just like walking into..." he will but in and say, "...an oven!"

I know this might seem like a petty problem, but I wish there were some way of breaking him of this annoying habit.

CO-WORKER
DEAR CO-WORKER: Fight fire with fire. No matter what the "sentence finisher" says, finish HIM off with an improvement on his "finish". Should he say (as cited in your example above) counter with, "No—a steam bath!"

DEAR ABBY: I was married young and had five children in eight years. My husband turned out to be no good so I got rid of him the only way a decent woman gets rid of a man—through the divorce court.

Three years later I married the most marvelous man who ever walked in shoe leather. He has been a real father to my children. I told all the children to use their new father's name in school. I never went through any legal rigmarole, but after eleven years everybody knows the children by my second husband's name. Is it necessary for me to do anything now about having their names "legally" changed? Or is it just automatic after a certain period of time?

MRS. F. J. T.
DEAR MRS. F. J. T.: In order for any name change to be legal and valid, it must be approved by the court. A lawyer can tell you how to go about it.

Economics Reports
Look Good to Some,
Terrible to Others

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The politicians can find almost anything they're looking for in today's statistics on the economy.

The figures indicate it's going in both directions—to the dogs or to a high and stable prosperity. The politician can pick the figures that suit his purpose and ignore the ones that don't.

This is true today more than usual. Always there are some parts of the economy on the up-grade and some heading downward. This used to be called rolling recession or rolling prosperity, depending on which trend could muster the most followers.

But today the split is wider than usual and the division between the up-goers and the down-goers more equal.

Employment is rising. The number of jobless has increased. Farmers have planted fewer acres. The total of farm output is expected to rise.

Auto output is well ahead of last year and so are car retail sales. Dealer stocks of unsold new cars are higher than normal and some auto production lines are cut back.

Retail sales are ahead of a year ago. Retail investments in many lines of unsold goods have been rising.

Manufacturers sales of hard goods have exceeded new orders each month this year. But new orders are holding fairly steady now with recent drops about offset by recent rises.

Consumers continue to spend a bit more than last year because the total of their incomes is a bit higher. But merchants are turning to price cutting to move some consumer durables.

All this obviously is a politician's paradise. When the economy seems to be stuck on dead center with some indicators pointing up and down, you can view with alarm or preach confidence at will.

The businessman has a more difficult task, however. He's trying to decide just which way business is heading. Few things worry him more than being stuck on dead center.

Living Costs Go Up for State, Too

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is no better off than its average citizen when it comes to figuring the increased cost of living.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes pointed this up today when he said the over-all cost of operating the state government has jumped almost 40 million dollars a year for the last three years.

He said expenditures for the fiscal year just closed amounted to $670,355,170, adding that this took into account four major items of expense for normal operations—personal service (salaries and wages), maintenance (supplies, equipment, repairs, travel, food for welfare institutions, motor vehicle purchase and operation), subsidies and rotary fund money. The auditor said this represented an increase of $118,292,718 or 21.4 per cent, over expenditures of $532,062,452 for fiscal 1957, and averaged $39,430,939 per year.

Expenditures for personal service, the auditor reported, increased from $101,832,073 for fiscal 1957 to $137,776,391 for fiscal 1960, for an increase of $35,944,319, or 35.2 per cent.

Rhodes noted a sharp decline in expenditures for additions and betterments, non-recurring items in the normal costs of state government operations. In 1957, capital improvements involved expenditure of $26,331,532, and this dropped to only $7,766,993 for the last fiscal year, he said.

Grocery Chains Find Problems Mount Higher

Even Piped in Music, Cash Register Jingle Are Not Soothing

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The grocery customer—and who isn't?—finds His and Her store ever fancier these days and often more efficient.

Some of the supermarkets may lull you and accompanying small fry with piped in music or entice you with an ever wider variety of food products—and nonfood items.

But while the food chains go on spreading and copping an impressive share of total grocery sales, behind their suave fronts are increasing problems that the music—or even the cash register jingle—doesn't lull.

The grocery chains boast that in the 1950s they expanded faster than any other form of retail trade. But with that growth they face today a squeeze on profits.

Example: the largest chain (A&P) reports earnings in its latest quarter were off 4.5 per cent from the spring weeks of 1959 and its total net income last year was 1 per cent of sales volume. Safeway and National Tea also report profits this year lower than a year ago.

Other problems common to the lengthening chains are the threat of saturation, the debates over how big a supermarket can profitably be, what else besides food it should sell, and how to increase mechanization and processing without antagonizing the women shoppers who like to pinch and look closely at what they're buying.

Another worry is that while your income tends to increase, you are spending a smaller part of it on food than you used to, in spite of the rise in food prices over the years.

Food's share of the basic standard of living was 24.3 per cent in 1950 and 23.1 per cent in 1959. It's share may shrink a bit more this year, in spite of the Grocery Manufacturers of America's prediction that 1960 will see another record spending for food.

In 1959 food chain store sales rose 5 per cent over 1958 to a record 194 billion dollars, or 39 per cent of total grocery store sales. But profit margins of all but one of the 10 largest chains were under 2 per cent of sales.

Some food chain battles, like those over trading stamps and private labels vs. national brands, seem to be in the truce stage at the moment.

While some food chains still fight trading stamps, their wide acceptance is hailed by executives of the Trading Stamp Institute of America at its annual meeting in Atlantic City this week.

They report that last year saw a 10 per cent increase in the number of savers (estimated at 39,437,000 families) and a five per cent growth in the number of food chains and supermarkets using them.

Chechs Free U.S. GI After Prison Term

GOEPFINGEN, Germany (AP)—A California soldier has been returned to the U. S. Army after spending two years in Communist Czechoslovakia, serving a prison term.

The Army said the Czechs handed over Pfc. Andrew A. Bellrichard, 21, of San Jose, at the border town of Waidhaus on July 7.

Announcement of his release was delayed until his mother, Mrs. Lisetta Czerwinaki of San Jose, Calif., was notified and a preliminary investigation was made. The Army said further investigation of his disappearance is now under way.

Bellrichard was standing guard along the Czech border when he disappeared.

Charlie Ditches His Peg Leg, Thanks to Cincinnati Fund

CINCINNATI (AP)—People didn't seem to like to have Charlie Anderson around.

They missed seeing his friendly blue eyes or his keen sense of humor.

All they could seem to see was sticking out under overalls.

He recalls: "Children without much rainin' used to yell at me: 'Peg leg!'"

Things are different with the 68-year-old man now. Equipped with an artificial leg, he has bought his first suit of clothes in 35 years.

"I look like a human again," he says gratefully. "Folks that didn't used to pay no attention to me—they're my friends now."

Charlie's help came from a unique fund set up in the will of a Cincinnati woman of far-reaching vision. It is the Max, Martha and Alfred M. Stern Fund for Special Medicines and Appliances.

Chief aim of the fund, according to Dr. Bernard A. Schwartz, its president, is to help individuals whose illnesses have stunted their earning power, making them medically indigent.

Charlie has been faced with economic as well as social problems ever since his own personal near-catastrophe back in 1925. A coal mine accident down in Stearns, Ky. crushed a foot. Blood poisoning set in, and they had to amputate his right leg above the knee.

Next came years of tramping around the country looking for employment.

In interpreting Mrs. Stern's will, Dr. Schwartz and fellow volunteers look for those who as Dr. Schwartz explains it, "are just going to be pushed over the brink and become charity patients."

They seek to help the person whose resources disqualify him as a charity patient, but who cannot pay unusual medical needs.

"He's entitled to as much help as someone who's made no effort for himself at all," Dr. Schwartz says.

How well the fund has operated, in less than two years, is illustrated by the records.

Since July 1, 1959, $12,561 has been spent on 75 approved applicants. The money paid for artificial limbs and dentures, appliances such as wheel chairs and hospital beds, and medicines.

Ninety applications for aid were processed, with 10 rejected and five pigeonholed. In this group 46 applicants were under 50 years of age, 27 from 50 to 65, and 17 age 65 and over.

The funds have been drawn from the principal, leaving $32,000 in the bequest.

Special braces for legs and hips were purchased for a woman in her early forties, paralyzed from the chest down. The disease that brought the paralysis had hospitalized the woman, forcing her husband to employ a housekeeper for himself and their two children. With the braces, and a custom-built wheel chair, the mother is back at home, looking after her family.

An electrically operated hospital bed has made life bearable for a helpless man. Forced to go to work when illness struck the man, his wife used to have to leave him in the same position all day.

A regularly employed man was found unable to pay for much-needed eye glasses. Investigation showed that $10 a day was required for expenses for his arthritic wife, from a weekly take-home pay of $87. The Stern fund is helping on the medicine bill.

All applications for assistance have to be signed by a doctor or dentist. Investigation includes thorough medical check-ups.

Charles Anderson is one of 16 to get an artificial limb. He's one of 13 to benefit by the additional help of dentures.

"I was down and out, and he gave me that lift," said Charlie, in referring to Dr. Schwartz and he fund he administers. Then the plucky old gentleman added: "You just can't know how high."

Blind Man Asks OK To Pack a Pistol

ATLANTA (AP)—An Atlanta factory worker has applied for a permit to carry a pistol, but officials indicated that although he may be a very good shot they are going to refuse him.

The factory where Paul W. Starnes works is the state factory for the blind.

The 54-year-old blind man says he has been shooting pistols, rifles and shotguns for 20 years and claims he is about as good a shot as anybody. But authorities still were skeptical.

Akron Loitering Ban Ruled Unconstitutional

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The 9th District Court of Appeals has ruled that Akron's ordinance against loitering is unconstitutional.

The trouble is that it fails to make any allowances for an innocent window shopper or a patient husband waiting for an overdue wife, the court held in effect.

The ordinance has made it unlawful to loiter in any public places, streets or alleys.

Ike Signs Bill For Research

Global Medical Plan
Given U.S. Approval

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday signed into law a bill setting up a new program of international medical research.

The program would be financed largely through U. S.-owned foreign currencies obtained for surplus farm commodities which this country sends abroad.

These currencies, plus some direct federal grants, would be used for furnishing equipment to hospitals and laboratories abroad, training of foreign scientists in this country and U. S. scientists overseas, translation and distribution services, and many other purposes.

The program would support planning for research into disease and disease prevention on a world wide basis, and encourage international coordination of medical research programs.

The U. S. Public Health Service would have charge of the program, called "Health for Peace" by its supporters.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), principal sponsor of the bill, said in a statement there is "no doubt that this legislation will produce dividends that are beyond price—dividends that can be expressed only in terms of the hundreds of thousands of lives that can and will be saved in our country and through the world in the years ahead."

The bill finally sent to the President was a sharply cut-down version of Hill's original proposal.

Hill's bill as passed by the Senate would have set up a new institute for international medical research at the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., under the Public Health Service.

The original bill also would have authorized spending 50 million dollars annually for the program.

Eaton Explains Capitalist's Psychology to Soviet Boss

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cyrus Eaton has disclosed how he recently reassured Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev about the intentions and psychology of American capitalism.

He has told Khrushchev, he said, that the industrialists of the nation want no war and at no time would put the considerations of their enterprises in any conception ahead of the world's need of peace.

As Mr. Eaton pointed out, the suspicion has been rife in Russia for years that the "capitalist industrialists" of the free-enterprise countries — notably those of the United States, the largest of these — might conceivably confront the possibilities of a third world war in interests of their enterprise. (A considerable part of the United States' economy now rests on military defense production.)

Mr. Eaton declined to quote the Moscow premier, but when asked whether he considered that Khrushchev believed him, said he listened with the greatest of earnestness to everything the Cleveland said.

Eaton clinched his statement—which conceivably might become of historic value in the years to come—with the example of Andrew Carnegie, the greatest steel maker in the world's history and the classic founder of independent steel production for America.

"Mr. Carnegie," he told Premier Khrushchev, "took the immense fortune from his liquidation of his steel interests and used the largest part of it to establish the world's best known foundation for peace, which has been effective for peace almost beyond any other effort.

"His psychology has become tradition for the makers of metal products in America since his day."

As a reassurance concerning the similar psychology of industrialists elsewhere in the free world, Mr. Eaton discussed with Khrushchev various talks he had had with Alfred Krupp, principal entrepreneur of the famous German steel, chemicals, banking, and munitions dynasty. In these, the Cleveland said, Krupp declared that he prayed not to be forced ever again to become a "producer for a war."

In the regimes of both Kaiser Wilhelm II and Adolf Hitler, Krupp recounted, the family interests were given no choice but to become the largest German munitions producers. At the present time, according to Mr. Eaton, Mr. Krupp faces the possibility of still another governmental pressure to return to the munitions production, and told the Cleveland capitalist of his dread of this eventuality.

The Krupp interests are in various ways associated with the Eaton iron ore properties in Ungava, Canada.

They'll Talk for Years About that All-Star Tilt

NEW YORK (AP)—They'll be talking about the second All-Star game for years to come.

Not so much because the Nationals won it for an unprecedented sweep of the two-year-old two-game midsummer set to narrow the Americans' over-all margin to 16-13.

Not so much because for only the third time since its inception in 1933 has an All-Star game ended in a shutout, such as Wednesday's 6-0 victory, or for the third time have four home runs been hit by one club.

Not so much because for the second time in three days was the victory credited to a Pittsburgh pitcher, Bob Friend won in Kansas City Monday and Vernon Law won in New York Wednesday.

Not so much because in winning, NL Manager Walter Alston accomplished, within 10 months, a grand slam in baseball by winning a pennant, a World Series and two All-Star games, or because in losing, AL Manager Al Lopez suffered his sixth All-Star loss, two as a player, one as a coach, and three as a manager.

The 38,362 paying customers in Yankee Stadium will long remember the second 1960 All-Star game because of the heroics of three players who belong on any All-Star team in any generation—Willie Mays, Stan Musial, and Ted Williams.

Willie the Magnificent, back in New York where he last played in 1957, duplicated his spectacular Kansas City performance by smashing a single and home run off New York southpaw Whitey Ford and another single off Detroit right-hander Frank Lary. The San Francisco special also stole a base. In center field, Willie was his magnificent self, making four putouts. One was on a 425-foot smash by Mickey Mantle to deep center which he made look easy.

Mays, who also cracked three hits—a single, double, and triple—in the first game, now shows a .438 All-Star average on 14 hits in 32 at bats.

At a nearby cubicle in the winning team's clubhouse was another smiling player, the ageless Musial.

"You know," he was saying, "I really had a feeling I was going to hit a homer. I can't explain why you feel that way. But you do."

Stan, at 39, and playing in his 19th All-Star game, was referring to the home run he hit as a pinch hitter off Gerry Staley of Chicago in the seventh inning.

The 41-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger didn't disappoint the fans, either. He slashed a hard single to right as a pinch hitter in the bottom half of the seventh. It was one of the eight hits given up by six NL pitchers.

Williams who, like Musial, is playing his last year, now has 14 hits, which include four home runs, 12 runs batted in, and 10 runs scored in 18 All-Star appearances.

The only American Leaguer to have more than one hit was Hansen. The rookie shortstop had two singles on top of a hit in the first game.

The other National League homers were hit by Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and St. Louis' Ken Boyer. Mathews, in the midst of a batting slump which caused Alston to drop him from second to LOWERING THE BOMB — Eddie Mathews sends the National League off to its "lucky 13th" victory in the All Star Game as he reaches home plate on his first inning, two-run homer. Greeting him are teammate Joe Adcock (left), who scored ahead of Mathews, and Pittsburgh's Ron Mazeroski. It was a 6-to-0 goose egg win for the National League.

BPO Elks Stop Purina, 14-11; Rain Halts Three Contests

BPO Elks squeezed past Ralston Purina, 14-11, in the only baseball game played here yesterday due to afternoon and evening rains.

Games scheduled between Savings Bank and First National Bank, Chamber of Commerce and DuPont and Derby and General Electric were postponed until Saturday. Chamber of Commerce will be forced to play a doubleheader in that the Chambermen already had a regular scheduled test with Kiwanis for Saturday.

The Saturday Schedule has C of C vs Kiwanis at 8:15 a. m. on the softball diamond, C of C vs DuPont at 10:30 a. m. on the softball diamond and GE vs Derby at 1:30 p.m. on the softball diamond. Savings Bank will meet First National at 8:30 a. m. on the Little League diamond.

The Elks, winners of the first round Major League, got off to another good start by taking advantage of 11 hits in a come-from-behind victory over Purina.

PURINA jumped to a 9-3 lead over the first four innings, but the Elks came to life with one run in the fifth and seven big ones in the sixth. They added three sixth in the batting order, hit his off losing pitcher Ford in the second inning after a single by teammate Joe Adcock.

The best showing of any of the five American League pitchers was made by Early Wynn, 40, Chicago right-hander. He retired six straight batters in the two innings he worked.

The National used 26 players, a record, and the American 21. The only player who didn't see action in either game was southpaw Dick Stigman of the Cleveland Indians.

Essig Favored To Cop Publinx 1957 Champ Shoots For Second Crown

HONOLULU (AP) — Dog Essig III of Indianapolis, the 1957 champion, was favored today to win the 35th annual Public Links golf Tournament.

Essig was one of the eight remaining layers who managed to break 150 in qualifying.

Two of the three medalists—Owen Douglass Jr. of Honolulu and Richard Howood of Phoenix, Ariz. — were eliminated Wednesday.

If Essig can win again he will become the first double winner since 1933. Charles Ferrera of San Francisco won in 1931 and 1933. Carl Kauffmann of Pittsburgh put together a three - title string in 1927, 1928 and 1929.

Essig, a Louisiana State student, played like a pro Wednesday as he advanced to the third round with a air of convincing victories.

In the morning he staved off a rally in the middle of the back nine by Tom Jenkins, Jacksonville, Fla., and won the match, 2 and 1. Essig held a 3-u lead at the turn but Jenkins tied it at the 15th. Essig was equal to the pressure, shooting apart on the 16th and ending the match on the 17th with a birdie three.

In the afternoon he beat Ray Borseth, Minnesota, 4 and 3. Essig was ahead by only one hole at the 12th but he chipped in for an eagle three on the par five, 13th, birdied the 14th and the 15th and the match was over.

In today's third round Essig, figuring qualifying scores, faced his toughest test against Felix Clavern, Stockton, Calif., who qualified with a 147, one stroke behind the co-medalists, Harlan Stevenson, Long Beach, Calif., Douglass and Hopwood.

Curly Smart Drives Colt to Scioto Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Florkash, owned by the Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., won the featured $3,400 two-year-old trot at Scioto Downs Wednesday night.

Curly Smart drove the horse to a 2:16 1-5 finish time over the mile in a driving rainstorm.

Curiosity Hurts

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)— Call it compassion, curiosity or whatever—it was costly for Collis Rhodes.

Police Sgt. Harvey Jackson says he was enroute to an accident when Rhodes drove past in a reckless manner. But Jackson couldn't give chase.

Rhodes, however, also became interested in the accident. He circled the block and drove to the wreck scene, where Jackson promptly arrested him. Rhodes was fined $100 and costs for drunken driving.

Wall, Souchak Head Western Open Field

DETROIT (AP) —Art Wall Jr. and Mike Souchak, riding two of golf's hottest streaks, headline a classy field of 161 that tees off today in the $25,000 Western Open Golf Tournament.

Wall, the man with the magic touch around the greens, was 19 strokes under par last week in winning the Canadian Open. A few days before, he finished in a second-place tie in the Flint Open which was won by Souchak.

Adkins Gets Pirates Offer

Joe Adkins, Northridge Road, was one of two pitchers given an offer to sign with the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday.

Adkins attended a two - day tryout at Jet Stadium in Columbus. He made his first appearance Tuesday, then was called back yesterday for another tryout.

Adkins turned down the offer to sign in order to return to college this fall. Pirate officials said they plan to make further checks on him as a bright prospect for future a role as a hurler.

Adkins pitched to eight batters yesterday, struckout seven and walked one.

The other prospective hurler is Keith Cunningham, ace Chillicothe High School pitcher this year. Cunningham reportedly signed to play with the Pirate organization.

Illinois Pacer Cops Hamilton Handicap

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Norway, a 10-year-old black gelding that has made 33 starts this season, found the muddy Hamilton Raceway track to his liking Wednesday night and came from behind to win a featured Class C handicap pace.

Norway, driven by co - owner Homer Billard of Oak Park, Ill., was timed at 2:26 for the mile.

Musial Admits Age Creeping Up on Him

NEW YORK (AP) — At 39, Stan Musial acknowledged today that he couldn't keep going forever.

"When you hit a home run in an All-Star game, it makes you feel a lot younger than you are," he said. He added he's not thinking in terms of quitting.

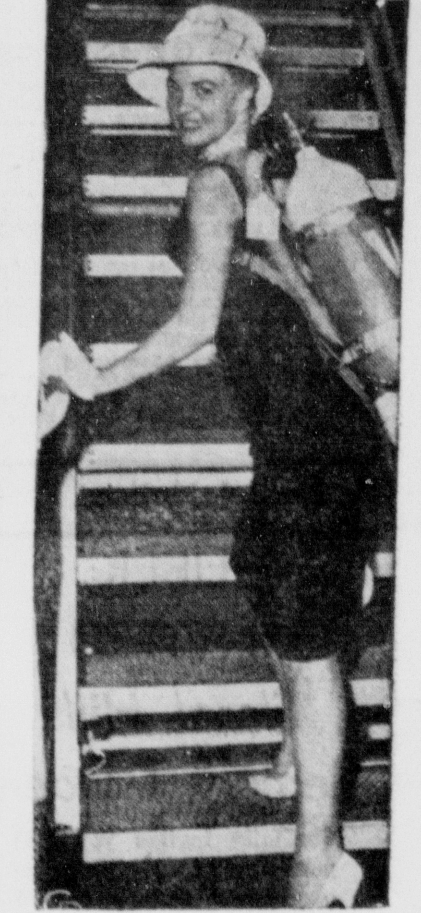

Musial grinned as he thought of the seventh inning of Wednesday's game when he blasted a homer to help the National League defeat the American League 6-0 in the baseball classic.

"When I went past Solly Hemus (third base coach) I said to him: 'I kinda liked that.'"

Musial now has played in 19 All-Star games and holds a fistfull of records. He has hit more home runs than anyone (6), hit for more total bases (39) and has the most at-bats (57).

"Nineteen All-Star games," Musial mused. "Imagine that. I don't think some of those kids on the team were 19 years old (they all were over 19).

"But I've still got my enthusiasm and that counts a lot."

Are NL Stars Really Better Than AL? No, Say AL Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — National League 5, American League 3. National League 6, American League 0.

The 1960 All-Star games are over and the NL won 'em both. Is the National really that much better than the AL?

"Hell no!" said Ted Williams as he dressed after Wednesday's shutout defeat in Yankee Stadium.

"Those guys just aren't that good. I mean they are not that much better than us that they should take both games," said he Boston Red Sox' Big Guy.

Then he laughed.

"Hell, I guess they were saying the same thing 20 years ago, when we were racking them up."

Al Lopez, Chicago White Sox Manager who skipped the AL All-Stars, said he couldn't see a great change between the Nationals of today and the Nationals of yesteryear, when he was NL All-Star catcher.

"They had a few sluggers then, too," he said. "But if there is a change, I'd say the American League has gone more for pitching lately and the National has gone more for sluggers."

"And our hitting just wasn't as good as theirs in these two games."

If you had to pick out just two of the NL sluggers, you'd have to go with Willie Mays and Stan Musial.

Mays, the San Francisco Giants' brilliant center fielder, whipped AL pitchers for six hits in the two games — his second All-Star homer, a triple, a double and three singles.

Musial, the old guy of the St. Louis Cardinals, beat out an infield hit and swatted his sixth All-Star home run in two pinch-hit appearances while playing his 18th and 19th games.

Musial, at 39, put one of Gerry Staley's pitches deep in the third deck at Yankee Stadium, just inside the foul pole. "And I really wasn't trying to hit one," he said.

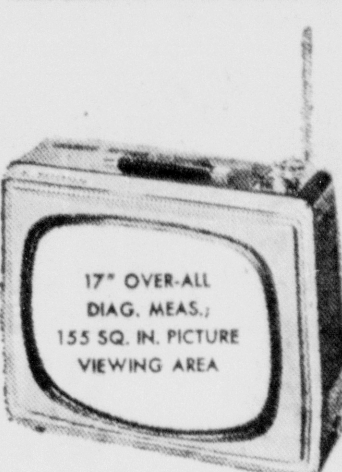

"The way I've been hitting lately, I just swing for base hits."

"It must have made him quite happy," said Williams, tongue in cheek.

As for his own pinch hit single in Wednesday's game, Williams said, "There wasn't much on the pitch (by Larry Jackson) and I didn't get much on it, either."

Walt Alston of the Los Angeles the NL manager, said, "There was no big secret to our winning either game. We got the hits when we needed them, and they didn't."

Jack's Juggernaut Just Rolled On

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It rolled on and on, one state after another.

It moved forward relentlessly with a kind of inevitability while Johnson supporters hoped for just enough of a roadblock to slow its momentum and Stevenson admirers prayed for a miracle.

But neither roadblock nor miracle came to pass.

And at 10:50 Wednesday night, Sen. John Fitzgerald Kennedy of Massachusetts became the Democratic nominee for president of the United States.

The count on the big tote board over the speakers' platform stood at 750 to Kennedy and 405 for Johnson at 10:49. The young man from Boston was now just 11 short of his dream.

Then came Wyoming at 10:50. Some 25,000 persons in the Los Angeles Sports Arena and untold millions in the television world beyond turned to watch the Wyoming delegation in the middle of the jammed, tense oval.

"Mr. Chairman, Wyoming casts its 15 votes for John Kennedy, the next—"

And Kennedy was in on the first ballot.

Inevitable or not, there is a kind of magic when the big moment comes, a magic to stir even the hearts of cynics with the thought that at this precise tick of the 34th president of the United States may have been chosen.

Somehow part of the magic is that after three long days of grubbing and wheeling and dealing behind hotel room doors, or ritual, meaningless rhetoric and sheer nonsense on the convention floor, one of our two greatest political parties achieves a solemn majesty.

It had made a choice in a wonderful moment of dignity reborn, for a party and a nation.

The high moment came after many low moments. After endless speeches in which nine names were placed in nomination, four of them seriously, five as favorite sons. After a long, dramatic march of superlatives, enough to drive Paul Bunyon underground. After endless demonstrations on cue by partisans who waved banners, screamed, stomped, marched like self-conscious grownups called upon to make faces and noises for the kids.

And finally at 10:09 the convention was ready to vote.

"Alabama votes 20 for—"

Every time the clerk repeats a vote wrongly, the crowd roars like a gigantic schoolroom catching the teacher in an error.

At 10:49 p. m. Wisconsin makes the 750 for Kennedy, 405 for Johnson.

A moment later Wyoming stands up and the crowd roars and onto the ledger of history comes John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Democratic nominee for president of the United States.

Bitter U.S.-USSR Fight in U.N. Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter United Nations battle between the Soviet Union and the United States seemed assured today over the issue of which of the two great powers is responsible for threatening world peace.

The issue was sharply drawn Wednesday night when President Eisenhower accepted a Soviet challenge on U.S. aircraft flights and declared his determination to make a case "on the lawless actions and reckless threats of the Soviet government."

The challenge was hurled by the Soviet government when Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko a few hours earlier demanded an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council. In a cable to U.N. headquarters he charged the U.S. Air Force with aggressive activities against the Soviet Union and said they constitute a threat to the peace of the world.

In a statement from his vacation headquarters at Newport, R.I. Eisenhower declared the United States is "ready and willing" to go to the Security Council for a full discussion of what he called the "wanton shooting down" by the Russians of an RB47 plane July 1.

The United States declared in a note to Moscow Tuesday that the plane was shot down over international waters at least 30 miles from the Soviet coast on the Barents Sea.

The Soviet Union had charged the previous day that the jet reconnaissance bomber had violated Soviet air space. A Soviet note to Washington linked the RB47 flight with the May Day U2 spy flight which went down in the Ural Mountains.

About the time that the President's statement was being released at Newport, the Navy said in Washington that a Soviet trawler which cruised close to the Atlantic coast last April was an electronic spy ship.

The Navy said the trawler Vega was engaged in bold reconnaissance activities. The craft showed up in the midst of tests being conducted by the U.S. nuclear submarine George Washington.

The Vega later cruised down the coast to as close as 12 miles off Cape Henry, Va. The cape is at the approaches to the big U.S. Navy base and fleet anchorage in the Norfolk and Hampton Roads area.

The Navy statement apparently was intended as evidence of how the United States treats reconnaissance in waters off the United States.

Major Crimes Increase In Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—Major crimes in Cleveland rose by 20 per cent in the first six months of 1960 compared with the same period a year ago. Police Chief Frank W. Story said Wednesday night he was disturbed, but added that the 1,922-man department had done a good job in combatting crime.
